

Alfa Romeo 156

Description

This absolutely stunning 2002 Alfa Romeo 156 GTA sedan is the most highly sought after 156 on the market and with only 60,000 klms in black with black sports interior it truly is a magnificent find. They are such an impressive car and you really do need to come in and have a good look at this beast to fully appreciate what Alfa did to get this car to market. A wolf in sheep's clothing this GTA has a 3.2 litre V6 that will dispatch the 0-100km/h sprint in 6.3 seconds on its way to a top speed of 250km/h. The GTA's steering is quicker again than the 156, just 1.75 turns lock-to-lock. The suspension is beefed up, the GTA riding 13mm lower on sporty 17inch wheels and tyres. Brakes are also bigger, now 305mm discs front and 276mm at the rear, with anit-lock and electronic brakeforce distribution. With 184 kW of power this little rocket is backed up by a race-track tuned chassis. Reinforced and revised 156 suspension results in a satisfying compromise between comfort and control.

The original asking price of $89,950 GTA is not all race-style engineering though. Inside is a well-trimmed, well-built interior with one of the most comfortable and supportive leather sports seats in the business, plus a long list of features including top-notch CD player, trip computer, and cruise control. From the outside the GTA's subtle styling, including a GTA badge, lowered suspension, body kit, twin exhausts and wider guards to accommodate the distinctive, five-hole 17-inch wheels, provide clues to its hard-edged nature.
