

Audi RS4 B7

Description

 Since 1994 our business has been specialising in prestige European car sales from our indoor warehouse in Sydney **
– Wow!! A 2007 Audi RS4 sedan with only 86,000 klms since new and log books which are up to date
– the Audi specialist who has been looking after this car did his training with VW starting in 1975 and is a true expert in Artarmon.
– the metallic blue is a very special colour only available to certain racing sports models and this one looks just amazing with the contrasting black leather interior which isn’t worn out like a lot of Audi’s are from 2007.
– these sedans hold their value so well and the previous owner has put a very nice GPS navigation system in the car which adds to its value and works very well compared to the older Audi models which were unfortunately more clumsy in their technology
– registered until October 2019 and comes with the very impressive number plates as part of the sale
– we loved everything about this car when we saw it and especially once we drove it. It really is a very tight example and will hopefully suit the fussiest of buyers
– it may be a 12 year old beast but in no uncertain terms this RS4 sedan looks and feels like a far more modern car
– we can’t wait to show you this wolf in sheep’s clothing which accelerates to 100kph in under 5 seconds
