

BMW 125i E82 MY10

Description

This gorgeous 2010 BMW 125i has it all with 45,000 klms since new, log books, July 2017 registration and it’s a beautiful car in every regard. It’s known as the update series in 2010 which lost the annoying pop-up navigation screen on the dash and received a very simple in-dash monitor with a wide screen. It’s white with black leather interior, has a lovely set of BMW factory alloy wheels, dual zone climate control air conditioning, loads of air bags, and we think our car is by far the best value for money on the Internet from a dealership in it’s current condition. Finding excellent BMW 1-series in this sort of condition is becoming hard and this is a massive saving off the original new car price. Loaded with so many great features please take the time to come in and visit us soon.
