

Jaguar X-Type X400 MY04

Description

This is an absolute stunning example of the automatic 2004 Jaguar X-Type 2.1 litre six-cylinder with a staggeringly low 86,000 klms since new and a very good up to date log book servicing history from new. The very popular British Racing Green with cream leather interior, cruise control and a nice set of Jag alloy wheels really do set this lovely car off. Being an MY04 it’s the update series with the slightly newer interior and not a lot changed from the previous model but the combination of a silky smooth V6 2.1 litre engine and excellent fuel economy makes this Jag the most reliable car they sold in about 15 years as it was engineered by Ford. This is such a good car with these sort of klms and being so fussy we are ever so proud to offer this car for sale. It’s also registered here in NSW until late August 2018, has spare keys and this is one of those Jags that cane in to us and needed nothing to spend prior to offering it for sale which is nice. We look forward to meeting you one day soon
