Description

This stunning 1971 Australian Delivered Mercedes Benz W109 chassis 300SEL 3.5 sedan has a superb feel about it and is equipped with some very desirable options. It has factory cherry red leather interior, factory air conditioning, power windows, is floor shift automatic transmission and has the original stereo and Mercedes hub caps. Everything is in the most original condition you could hope for with the underneath of the doors still like new and not repaired. There are no marks on the chrome, paint is very good, Californian staked headlights are in mint condition and the radio even works! The rear parcel tray has brand new velour carpet from factory, the factory tint is a very pale green and suits the car perfectly (this is a sign of an original vehicle) there are loads of receipts with the log books and the owners manual is present. We always thrive to find the classic cars which will hold their value the best and this is certainly one of those cars. We are so so excited about this lovely W109 chassis car and even in the areas of the boot which are normally sweat ridden and form rust is immaculate.
