

Mercedes-Benz C200 CGI MY10

Description

What great value for money this 2010 Mercedes Benz C200 CGi update series turbo sedan is in metallic silver with black leather, alloy wheels and has NSW registration until September 2018 as well as log books that are up to date, factory satellite pop-up navigation and a spare key. These are such great value for money now and were around $60K when new and these cars just go and go forever with proper servicing. We sell loads of this W204 series and are very picky about what we decide to take on and this is a car you need to come and see for yourself how original it is and take it for a drive. All the alloy wheels are not marked at all and the tyres are in good condition with plenty of tread left. Good C-Classes are becoming hard to find that have been garaged, well serviced, not smoked in and have good options. We're confident you will like this car as we did when we bought it.
