

Mercedes-Benz C200 Kompressor W203 MY2005

Description

 Since 1994 our business has been specialising in prestige European car sales from our indoor warehouse in Sydney **
– this is the newer series 2004 (MY05) black Mercedes Benz C200 Kompressor sedan with only just over 100,000 klms since new
– good ones are becoming very hard to come across and we actually sold this car to the previous owner some years ago and it looks like the day it left us back then – the black interior looks great and this certainly is a bullet-proof model this car as they’re just so reliable
– the only reason these people traded the car in is it was due to registration which we will attend to at the point of sale
– there are a lot of little things to look out for when buying a C-Class and this car certainly ticks all of the boxes.
– metallic paint is in extremely good condition and we are very thorough when preparing these cars for sale
– the MY05 has a whole new dash and interior which makes it worth considerably more than a 2003-2004 model car.
– the alloy wheels are in excellent condition and we will be ensuring that the new owner is very please with this car overall prior to it leaving our dealership
– please take the time to come and have a nice test drive of this superb little car
– we are extremely thorough about the sort of cars we buy and go over them
