2008 Mercedes-Benz CL500 C216 – Designo – Full Service History

A magnificent example of Mercedes-Benz's flagship luxury coupe, this 2008 Mercedes-Benz CL500 C216 combines effortless V8 performance, extraordinary comfort and the elegant pillarless styling for which the CL-Class has become renowned.

Finished in black with a black leather interior, this example is further enhanced by the highly desirable Designo package, giving an already very special Mercedes-Benz an additional level of exclusivity.

Under the bonnet is Mercedes-Benz's superb 5.5-litre naturally aspirated V8, producing an impressive 285kW and 530Nm of torque. Coupled to the smooth 7-speed automatic transmission, it delivers exactly the sort of effortless performance expected of Mercedes-Benz's flagship grand touring coupe.

The sophisticated ABC (Active Body Control) suspension was another technological highlight of the C216, providing an exceptional combination of ride comfort, body control and high-speed stability.

This car has travelled 184,000 kilometres from new and, importantly, comes with a full service history from new.

The C216 CL500 was an extraordinarily expensive and technologically advanced motor car when new. Its beautifully finished cabin, imposing dimensions, pillarless side glass and large-capacity naturally aspirated V8 make it a very different proposition from today's smaller turbocharged luxury coupes.

It is a car equally at home cruising effortlessly on the motorway or arriving somewhere special, and even today the C216 has tremendous road presence.
