Mercedes-Benz E320 W211

Description

It is becoming harder to source immaculate W211 series E class Mercs, and this E320 is really amongst the best we have seen in a long time for the year and kilometers. Garage kept by a fastidious owner with excellent books and very good tyres. The charcoal leather interior is complimented by beautiful walnut trim which, due to being garage kept, has kept it's lustre. This car was a special order without a sunroof and with the 16" alloys. The wood grain dash, the head liner, the condition of the alloy wheels, the engine bay and overall condition of this car with 133,000 klms is way above average. Delightful to drive and with such low kms we expect it to hold it's value very well moving forward.
