

Mercedes-Benz E350 W211 MY07

Description

When this Mercedes Benz E350 Elegance came out in 2007 it was known as the newer update series which had the more modern engine, front head lights and 7 speed automatic gearbox. We are so proud to be offering a car in Cubinate in colour with tan leather interior and being an Elegance edition you get so many awesome features. From the stunning leather seats, leather steering wheel, parking sensors, dual zone climate control air conditioning and this is a one owner car from new. This car with such low klms (103,000) is extremely good value for money especially in this colour combination. This engine is bullet proof and should go for many many years as long as it’s looked after as this car has been since new. With features such as blue tooth, navigation, electric seats with memory this still looks and feels like a very modern car. We can’t wait to show you this excellent example and hope you agree as to how good it is in the flesh. Registered here in NSW until February 2019 and is literally in mint condition with all services from a Mercedes Benz dealership. This is an amazing example to be taken very seriously.
