Mercedes-Benz E500 W211

Description

We are so thrilled to find another update 5-speed automatic 2003 W211 Mercedes Benz E500 Avantgarde in Cubanite with black leather with a staggeringly low 92,000 klms since new and a service book to match. This is simply one of those immaculate cars that you can only fully appreciate when you come in to see it and even smell that it's like new with hardly having been driven in 11 years. We're finding these cars that have been traded in from Sydney dealerships that the previous owners either have another company car or get public transport to work every day. Everything on this car screams out that it has been superbly looked after and the overall condition of the interior is quite amazing to say the least. The paint may have a stone chip but that would be all and the tyres are in very good condition. We really do take a lot of pride in cars like this and are very keen to take you for a drive one day soon. The Elegance model has extra woodgrain interior, full leather, electric seats on both sides, and being the 5-speed automatic this car is the more reliable box from this series.
