2012 Mercedes-Benz ML250 BlueTEC – AMG Sports Package

A beautifully presented example of the third-generation W166 Mercedes-Benz M-Class, finished in the classic combination of black with black leather interior and enhanced by the highly desirable AMG Sports Package.

The W166 represented a major step forward from the previous M-Class, with a substantially more modern interior, improved refinement and excellent road manners while retaining genuine permanent four-wheel-drive capability.

This ML250 is powered by Mercedes-Benz's remarkably capable 2.1-litre twin-turbo BlueTEC diesel, producing 150kW and an impressive 500Nm of torque. It is coupled to the smooth 7G-TRONIC PLUS 7-speed automatic transmission and Mercedes-Benz 4MATIC permanent all-wheel-drive system.

Despite its excellent performance and enormous torque, the ML250 BlueTEC was rated at an impressive 6.4L/100km combined, making it an exceptionally economical luxury SUV for its size.

The ML250 is arguably one of the most sensible choices in the W166 range. Its 500Nm of torque gives it excellent effortless performance while the four-cylinder diesel provides substantially better fuel economy than many large luxury SUVs.

It is also a serious towing vehicle, with the Australian specification offering up to 3,500kg braked towing capacity.

This example looks particularly striking in black over black leather, while the AMG Sports Package gives it the appearance these cars deserve.

Adding considerably to its value is NSW registration through until December 2026.

A handsome, economical and beautifully equipped Mercedes-Benz luxury SUV offering an enormous amount of motor car for the money.
