Mercedes-Benz S500 V220

Description

In 1999 when this Mercedes Benz S500 Long wheel base came out it was probably the very best Benz available and this sedan is just stunning in every regard. This particular car was sold new overseas and was brought over to Australia some years later by its owner. With only 115,000 klms since new and in metallic Azurite blue with full black leather interior, alloy wheels offered at the time, navigation, blue tooth compatible, cruise control, sun roof and a very good servicing history from new. This car was owned by a family in Sydney since 2012 and has been in the upper north shore and they actually traded in two cars on a new Mercedes Benz. It has Xenon lights, Michelin tyres, only just serviced, NSW registered, log books from new, electric chairs, superb paintwork, the interior is like new and each of our experienced staff says this is the best example we have seen and driven in years and hope you agree. This would have been such an expensive car when it was brand new at well over $200K and at a fraction of the price and having travelled only around 6,000 klms per year it really is nothing for this flagship series in what is probably the very best colour combination. There are very few of these for sale and especially in this sort of condition. Please take out the time to come in and have a close look at this stunning S500L.
