

Porsche Cayenne 9PA

Description

There are some 2005 Porsche Cayenne’s that you see on the Internet and keep browsing but this really is a car you need to stop and have a serious look at please. Every single service carried out either at the Porsche dealership or a specialist and it has been owned by one of the fussiest people we deal wither here at our dealership. It’s silver metallic with black leather interior, has nice factory wheels, navigation which is in full colour and a factory sun roof. Please disregard the 168,000 klms as it literally looks and drives like it’s travelled 95,000 klms and you will hopefully agree when you come and test drive it. It’s just one of those cars you can’t get a good feel of from looking at it on a computer screen. We look forward to meeting you in person one day soon and incidentally it’s only been driven 13K per year which is very normal.
