2015 Volvo V60 T5 Kinetic – Only 46,945 km – Exceptionally Rare

A remarkably difficult car to find in this condition and with these kilometres – a 2015 Volvo V60 T5 Kinetic, finished in beautiful dark metallic blue with charcoal grey leather interior and travelled an extraordinarily low 46,945 kilometres since new.

The V60 has become an increasingly rare sight on Australian roads, particularly in T5 petrol specification. Finding one showing fewer than 50,000 kilometres is exceptional.

180kW Turbo Performance

Don't be fooled by the understated appearance.

This MY15 T5 uses Volvo's impressive 2.0-litre turbocharged four-cylinder petrol engine, developing:

180kW of power and 350Nm of torque

Coupled to an 8-speed Geartronic sports automatic transmission, the T5 is capable of 0–100 km/h in approximately 6.4 seconds – genuinely quick performance from such a practical and elegant European wagon.

Despite that performance, official combined fuel consumption was only 6.8L/100km.

Features include:

2.0-litre turbocharged T5 petrol engine

180kW and 350Nm

8-speed Geartronic sports automatic

Charcoal grey leather upholstery

Electric driver's seat

The V60 is a wonderful alternative to the usual European SUVs. It combines Volvo safety and build quality with excellent performance, a beautifully comfortable interior and genuine wagon practicality, while still being enjoyable to drive.

The dark metallic blue over charcoal leather is an especially attractive and understated combination and suits the V60 beautifully.

But the real story here is the odometer.

Only 46,945 kilometres since new.

At this age, it is becoming extremely difficult to find any quality European wagon with kilometres this low – let alone a relatively rare Volvo V60 T5.

A distinctive, exceptionally low-kilometre European sports wagon offering an enormous amount of car for the money.
